If you are unable to report compliance irregularities directly to those around you (see the pamphlet for details), you must do so to the Compliance Hotline. The University of Tokyo protects reporters from retaliation as a result of reporting compliance irregularities.

The University of Tokyo also provides a report form that can be submitted electronically. Please download and fill out the form and submit it through the following URL.

You can also submit a report by phone. The phone number is 03-5841-0737.

The University of Tokyo also provides a confidential reporting system for employees and students who wish to report compliance irregularities without fear of retaliation.

You can find more information about the confidential reporting system on the University of Tokyo’s Compliance Hotline website.
