Article 2 (Amount of Examination Fees, Admission Fees, and Tuition Fees)

1. Table 1 shows the amount of examination fees, admission fees, and tuition fees for undergraduate and graduate students under Article 58,-2, paragraph 1 of the General Rules on Faculties, and Article 35, paragraph 1 of the Rules on Graduate Schools.
2. Notwithstanding the preceding paragraph, when the University permits a student to plan and take an extended period of time (“extended-enrollment period”) to complete the curriculum under Article 2, paragraph 7 of the Rules on Graduate Schools (“extended-period student”), the annual tuition fee shall be calculated as follows*:

$$\begin{array}{ccccc} \text{Annual tuition fee under} & & \text{Standard number} & & \text{Number of years in} \\ \text{the preceding paragraph} & \times & \text{of years} & \div & \text{extended-enrollment} \\ & & & & \text{period} \end{array}$$

(*The calculated amount is to be rounded up to the nearest JPY 10.)

3. Table 2 shows the amount of examination fees, admission fees, and tuition fees for students at the Secondary School under Article 24, paragraph 1, Article 25, paragraph 2, and Article 26, paragraph 2 of the Rules for the Secondary School.

Article 3 (Special Provisions for Tuition Fees and Collection Method for Extended-period Student)

1. If an extended-period student remains enrolled even after the extended-enrollment period ends, an annual tuition fee for that exceeding period shall be the same amount as shown in Table 1.
2. If an extended-period student completes the curriculum sometime during an academic year, a tuition fee is calculated as follows*:

$$\begin{array}{ccccc} \text{Annual tuition fee under paragraph 2 of the} & & & & \text{Number of months} \\ \text{preceding paragraph} & \div & 12 & \times & \text{to enroll} \end{array}$$

The student should pay this fee in the first month of the academic year. However, if the student is expected to complete the curriculum in the second half of the academic year, the University may collect the fees relevant for this period during the collection period for the second half of the academic year.

3. If the University permits an extended-period student to shorten his/her extended-enrollment period, the student must adjust for the difference by paying up the amount calculated in the following way:

$$\begin{array}{rcccl} \text{Re-calculated annual tuition fee for the} & & & & \text{Total tuition fees} \\ \text{shortened enrollment period under} & & & & \text{payable for the actually} \\ \text{paragraph 2 of preceding Article *} & \times & \text{Number of years} & - & \text{enrolled period before} \\ & & \text{the student has} & & \text{re-calculation} \\ & & \text{already enrolled} & & \end{array}$$

* Any fraction of less than one year is rounded up. The same applies below.

** If this occurs sometime during an academic year, it applies until the end of the academic year. The same applies below.

However, if a shortened period becomes equal to the standard enrollment period, the difference to be paid is as follows:

$$\begin{array}{rcccl} \text{Annual tuition fee under paragraph} & & & & \text{Total tuition fees} \\ \text{1 of preceding Article} & \times & \text{Number of years} & - & \text{payable for the actually} \\ & & \text{the student has} & & \text{enrolled period before} \\ & & \text{already enrolled} & & \text{re-calculation} \end{array}$$

4. If the University permits an extended-period student to further extend the period, the annual tuition fee is re-calculated for such extended period under paragraph 2 of the preceding Article. However, no adjustment will be made for the difference in amount with the tuition fees for the enrolled period.
5. If the University permits a student to become an extended-period student sometime during an academic year, the new annual tuition fee for the extended-enrollment period is calculated under paragraph 2 of the preceding Article. However, no adjustment will be made for the difference in amount with tuition fees for the enrolled period.
6. If the University revises tuition fees, the new annual tuition fee for extended-period students is calculated based on the revised fee under paragraph 2 of the preceding Article. However, no adjustment will be made for the difference in amount with tuition fees for the already enrolled period.
