The University of Tokyo Rules on the use of the Campus-wide Educational Computing System

Established: August 6, 1999

Article 1 Purpose

The purpose of these rules is to determine the necessary matters regarding the use of the Campus-wide Educational Computing System operated and managed by the University of Tokyo's Information Technology Center (hereinafter called "the Center").

Article 2 Eligibility

Anyone who meets the following criteria is eligible to use the Campus-wide Educational Computing System (hereinafter called "the User"):

- (1) A full-time academic or administrative staff of the University of Tokyo
- (2) A student enrolled in a College, Faculty or Graduate School of the University of Tokyo
- (3) A part-time instructor with teaching responsibilities in a College, Faculty or Graduate School of the University
- (4) In addition to those previously mentioned, anyone authorized by the Director of the Center

Article 3 Application for use

Anyone wishing to apply for permission to use the Campus-wide Educational Computing System should submit the separately provided application form to the Director of the University of Tokyo's Information Technology Center (hereinafter called "the Director") and receive approval.

Article 4 Acceptance for use

The Director will accept the application of the previous clause once it has been deemed appropriate.

Article 5 Period of use

The period of use of the Campus-wide Educational Computing System shall be from April 1 to March 31 of the following year.

Article 6 Scope of use

The scope of use of the Campus-wide Educational Computing System is as follows:

- (1) Use in lectures which use the information system.
- (2) For use with basic applications for education and research activities within the University.
- (3) For use to distribute, acquire and exchange of information relating to education and research

within the University

2. The User shall not exceed the capabilities of the Campus-wide Educational Computing System and act in a manner that interferes with the use of the system by other users, even if it is within the scope of the objectives stipulated in the above items.

Article 7 Maintaining the rights of use

The User shall not loan or transfer the right to use the Campus-wide Educational Computing System (hereinafter called “account”) to a third party.

2. The User must manage their account properly to prevent it from being stolen.

3. Except in cases where the Director deems it necessary, the User may not have more than one account.

Article 8 Usage of premises and equipment, etc

The User may use the premises, equipment, or goods managed by the Center within the scope of the objectives for use, except where otherwise provided.

Article 9 Notification of changes

The User must notify the Director promptly when any change occurs in any items given in the agreement of use.

Article 10 Cancellation of agreement of use

The Director may cancel the agreement of use with the User or terminate the User’s right of use if the User does not follow the rules set out by the Center or if the User uses the Campus-wide Educational Computing System for purposes other than that agreed.

Article 11 Using computer systems or networks other than the Campus-wide Educational Computing System

When other computer systems or networks are accessed through the Campus-wide Educational Computing System, the User must observe all the regulations stipulated by the administrators of the said computer systems or networks.

Article 12 Costs

The burden of the costs relating to the use of the Campus-wide Educational Computing System is laid out separately.

Article 13 Miscellaneous rules

If it should become necessary to provide for matters that are not covered by these regulations, the Director shall decide upon such matters after discussion with the Center’s Steering Committee.
