Inter-University Exchange Project Platform Building Program
“JAPAN INDIA Exchange Platform Program”

In this project selected in FY2017, by forming a network that follows the Japan-India exchange project implemented by each university / institution and sharing diverse information across the board, the universities and companies in Japan and India etc. We are also making efforts to create a platform to develop sustainable and strong Japan-India exchanges by creating new exchanges. In this symposium, three lectures and a panel discussion will be given from the perspective of supporting life events of young people in Japan and India using the framework of Japan-India exchange and industry-government-academia collaboration.

The three lecturers will share their opinions and information on good practices of (1) a university that promote exchange between Japan and India, (2) a private company that supports job-hunting activities for students from Japan and India, and (3) an institution that promotes the recruitment of Indian human resources by Japanese companies.

We hope that this symposium will be an opportunity for those who are interested in beginning exchanges between India and Japan to meet and discuss with those who have gained substantial experience in exchange with India.
