

June 28, 2006

Revised on November 17, 2017
Student Award Selection Meeting

Nomination Criteria for the University of Tokyo President's Award for Students

Based on No.3 of the University's guidelines for awarding students (approved by the President on March 19, 2002 and revised on July 1, 2011), the criteria for nomination are as follows:

【Nomination Criteria】

1. Academic achievement section (※)

Individuals or groups who have won academic achievements, and thus serve as a role model for other students. In addition, individuals or groups who received critical acclaim in the academia and thus enhanced the honor of the University.

2. Extracurricular or social activity section (※)

- a) Individuals or groups who demonstrated excellence in extracurricular activities, such as various sports, competitions, performances, displays, and presentations, and thus enhanced the prestige of the University. In addition, individuals or groups who supported extracurricular activities and significantly contributed to improving and promoting those activities.
- b) Individuals or groups who have gained recognition in various social activities for environmental protection, disaster relief, social welfare, youth development, overseas aid and cooperation, and such, thus serve as a role model for other students. In addition, individuals or groups who have gained public acclaim, and thus enhanced the prestige of the University.
- c) Individuals or groups who helped deepen mutual understanding and friendly relations in international exchanges among universities, and thus significantly contributed to promoting international exchanges of the University.
- d) Individuals or groups who made similar contributions worthy of the President's Award of the University.

(※) Nominations that are judged to correspond to both criteria will be evaluated solely upon the characteristics of either criteria "1. Academic achievement section" or "2. Extracurricular or social activity section".

【Eligible nominee】

1. Individuals (*)

An undergraduate student or graduate student of the University of Tokyo, or those within one year of their graduation or completion of courses when their achievements/activities during their enrollment meets the above nomination criteria can be a candidate.

2. Groups (*)

The group of which major members are the students who corresponds to the aforementioned paragraph 1 can be a candidate.

(*) 2 or more individuals are treated as "group". However, when the group being nominated consists of no more than 3 individuals, the nomination may be accepted under each individual's names jointly.

【Nominator】

1. Academic achievement section (For Nomination Criteria 1)

Candidates shall be nominated only by the dean of the faculty or graduate school.

However, in principle, the dean shall only nominate up to one student or one group for each stage: i.e. undergraduate level / Master's and professional program level / doctorate program level.

2. Extracurricular or social activity section (For Nomination Criteria 2)

Staff or students of the University of Tokyo may nominate candidates (self-nomination is also acceptable).

However, depending on the characteristics of the activity, nomination by other than those mentioned above may be accepted.