

Tsinghua Global Summer School 2022

July 4-July 10, 2022

1. About the Program

Tsinghua University is delighted to offer a Global Summer School (Tsinghua GSS) in 2022, providing an exceptional interdisciplinary platform for emerging leaders. Over 2,000 young talents from 154 universities across 91 different countries and regions attended the virtual summer school in 2020 and 2021, undertaking courses taught by distinguished scholars and practitioners from China and abroad. Tsinghua GSS 2022, themed A Healthy Planet for Sustainable Development, will explore innovative ways to solve critical challenges related to public health, society, economy, and environment, with sustainable development as a core reference point.

Method of Delivery: Online

Start Date: July 4, 2022

End Date: July 10, 2022

2. Course Content

Supported by over 20 Tsinghua departments and institutes, this summer school will cover diverse topics related to sustainable development. The program features a carefully curated syllabus combining academic, cultural, and social engagements, and will be conducted entirely in English through online lectures, workshops and an SDG Hackathon.

Learning Objectives

Tsinghua GSS combines Tsinghua's world-class teaching and research resources with virtual engagements that showcase Chinese culture and Tsinghua's spirit of academic excellence. This year's GSS will increase participants' awareness of sustainable development and stimulate their critical thinking to explore and solve critical challenges related to education, economy, and environment, with sustainable development as a core reference point.

Expected Outcomes

Participants are expected to develop skills fundamental to global leadership, including in-depth problem analysis and exploration, presentation and expression, cross-cultural communication, and teamwork.

3. Assessment

Students who meet the attendance requirement and complete the SDG Hackathon will be eligible for 1 academic credit and a Tsinghua GSS 2022 Certificate.
