"Tell Me the Truth About Technology" - Our Relationship with Technology, Technology and Society

The talk will look at key themes to understand our daily relationship with technology and more broadly the role of technology in society, emphasizing both changes and historical continuity. The following topics will be addressed, challenging widespread stereotype in contemporary public discourse about technology:

- How technology changes us
- Why technology is not neutral
- The reason not only digital technology matters
- Why society and politics are often displaced by technology
