World Heritage Site

• Rich History of 2000+ years

• Major highlights of Aurangabad tourism are the Ajanta and Ellora Caves, the famed rock-cut caves that are also recognized by UNESCO as World Heritage Site.

• Designed to be the monsoon retreat of erstwhile Buddhist monks, the 29 Ajanta Caves date back to the 2nd Century BC.

• The caves are famous for their wall paintings, inspired significantly by the Jataka Tales, which trace the life and previous lives of the Buddha until he attained Nirvana.

• Along with the divine sculptures, these are the oldest surviving example of classical Indian art and are a reflection of the times.
Cultural Heritage

❖ Paithani-- Silk Robe Sari

The most reputed and treasured Paithani sari, considered an heirloom by most. Created using a style of weaving, which has flourished ever since 200 BC, a Paithani sari is entirely woven by hand, using threads of pure silk, gold and silver and depicts motifs of birds, flowers, leaves in a rich and bold colour palette.

❖ Himroo

Himroo is a fabric made of silk and cotton, which is grown locally in Aurangabad. Himroo was brought to Aurangabad in the reign of Mohammad Tughlaq, when he had shifted his capital from Delhi to Daulatabad, Aurangabad. The word Himroo originated from Persian word Hum-ruh which means 'similar'.

❖ Bidri Work

The origin of these works dates back to 14th century under the Bahmani kingdom which ruled the present Deccan area. The art form developed in the kingdom was a mix of Turkey, Persia and Arabic countries which were intermingled with the local styles and thus a unique style of its own was born. Bidri work, in particular came from Iran with an artisan called Abdulla-bin-Kaiser, who was an expert in metal work. Along with local artisans, the art ware spread far and wide and was handed over to generations as time passed.
