Auckland is a great base for exploring further afield.

Many of New Zealand's top attractions and most striking landscapes are within a few hours' drive. Our study abroad students often spend weekends exploring the North Island or fly to the stunning South Island during the two-week semester break.

Our campus and accommodation are in the heart of cosmopolitan Auckland. Placed between the Pacific Ocean and the Tasman Sea, Auckland's unique geographical position means you can enjoy living close to stunning beaches, untouched forest and tranquil islands. Add to that Auckland's great urban lifestyle, and it's clear why Auckland has been ranked third for quality of life.

Entry Requirements

Complete at least one full-time year of university study at the time of application unless you are considered under special admission. You should have a cumulative grade point average of 2.7 on a 4.0 scale (B- average) or its equivalent.

If you are from a country that is not recognised with English as a first language, you must provide evidence of meeting the University's English language requirements. The required score for the Exchange and Study Abroad Programme is:

IELTS (Academic):

Overall score of 6.0 and no bands below 5.5

Internet-based TOEFL (iBT):

Overall score of 80 and a writing score of 21

The University of Auckland accepts a number of other English language test results and additional evidence of English competency from certain countries. For details, please visit the website.

Courses

With more than 100 subjects available, you can explore both subjects that are unique to New Zealand and those that you need to complete for your degree at home. The list of course options is on page 5. You can take courses across different subjects and levels as long as you meet prerequisites for relevant courses.

The standard full-time load at the University of Auckland is four courses (60 points) per semester. Most courses weigh 15 points, which represents 150 hours of study or 10 hours of study per week for 15 weeks.

Courses at the University of Auckland are generally made up of a lecture plus a tutorial or lab component. There will be one lecture stream throughout the week covering the main content of the course. You also choose one tutorial or lab session which fits within your timetables.

- Check the course catalogue for a full list of all University of Auckland courses. You can find brief outline of courses, terms offered and timetables. Note timetables for the next academic year (January to December) are published on 1 November of the previous year.

auckland.ac.nz/sso-courseadvice

- View or download a more detailed course description (or syllabus) of a course, including its content, learning outcomes and assessment from the University's Digital Course Outlines.

courseoutline.auckland.ac.nz/dco

- Get at least 6 to 8 courses approved by your home faculty in case there are timetable clashes or changes in course offerings.
- Some courses have limited or restricted enrolment for Exchange and Study Abroad students. For a full list, check 'Course options' on the website.

I wasn't very aware of the differences in architectural styles and values before I got here, and it's been interesting to be introduced into a whole new way of thinking.

The fact that I had to focus on other things than what I was used to, particularly tapping into my artistic and conceptual side as opposed to the practical and more technical approach I'm used to from home, made things challenging for sure, but I feel like I've learned a lot and that the experience will make me a better architect in the end.

One of my courses is Pacific Architecture, which focuses on the history, culture and architecture of different regions within the Pacific. Coming from the other side of the world, I didn't really know anything about this before I got here. It's been so cool to learn about the built heritage of the different islands and how it can be passed on through new projects. I think this course has also helped me understand Maori culture better and how it connects with the other communities within the Pacific.

“This entire experience was something I would have never thought of doing, but I took the leap and went for it and it has been the best experience of my life. There have also been many experiences I have taken advantage of while being here that were certainly out of my comfort zone, but it has made all the difference.”

“The combination of learning about Māori culture and language as well as being surrounded by Native Māori people with strong ties to those aspects of culture and more has made me realize how important it is for Native people to get educated and return to their homelands and make a difference in any way possible. Therefore, I am even more certain that after I complete my studies, I want to return home to Hawai'i and help uplift my people and make Hawai'i a better place for Hawaiians for generations to come.”

Innovation and Entrepreneurship

Unleash Space (Kura Matahuna) is our vibrant innovation and entrepreneurship hub, with a state-of-the-art maker space. It is open and free for all students and we provide workshops, bookable meeting rooms, brainstorming spaces, experts and inspiration for your projects and ventures. For those interested in exploring the world of innovation and entrepreneurship, join a one-day workshop or enter a part-time programme in the holidays. We have a range of interactive programmes for everyone. Unleash your potential, wherever you are on your journey.

cie.auckland.ac.nz

"The University of Auckland is situated right in the heart of the city, so it was appealing to experience New Zealand's largest urban area with such intimacy. Additionally, UoA offers an incredibly diverse array of academic programmes. I was thrilled to have the opportunity to study topics closely intertwined with New Zealand and the Pacific as a whole."

I enjoy the excitement and accessibility of Auckland. Like any large city, there is no shortage of entertainment while here. You can visit massive volcanic craters, have fun island adventures, or find a favourite dinner spot with some friends just down the street. It's an incredible city that combines an urban lifestyle with the opportunity to escape into nature.

Guaranteed accommodation

We commit to offering on-campus accommodation to every study abroad or exchange student who applies to the University by the deadline.

The sooner you apply, the sooner your accommodation will be reserved for you. Accommodation is only guaranteed for students who submit applications before the application deadlines.*

We encourage you to apply for accommodation as soon as applications open, even if you have not yet completed your application to study at the University of Auckland. This will help to ensure you have a place at a University residence hall.

At the time you accept your residential agreement, you are required to pay $950 to secure your place ($650 accommodation deposit and $300 administration fee). The $650 deposit forms part of your overall accommodation fee.

Confidential references and visa document are not required for Study Abroad and Exchange students to apply for accommodation.

Accommodation application dates

Semester One (February to June 2025):

Open on 1 August 2024
Close 15 October 2024

Semester Two 2025 (July to November 2025):

Open on 1 April 2025
Close on 1 May 2025

The University's Accommodation Solutions team will attempt to place a student in on-campus accommodation even after deadlines have passed.

If your home university or provider arranges university housing for you, you do not have to apply individually. Please check with them first. A family room or couple room is excluded from guaranteed housing due to our capacity.

Accommodation is a semester contract of 21 weeks. You can move in and out within the contract dates. The tentative dates of contract in 2025 are:

Semester One: Saturday, 22 February 2025 to Monday, 7 July 2025

Semester Two: Wednesday, 9 July 2025 to Friday, 21 November 2025

Apply online at:

*Study Abroad students pay a single flat fee, which covers tuition fees for up to 60 points (usually four courses) and includes the student services fee. Additional fees may be charged for enrolments over 60 points. Exchange students pay tuition fees to the home university.

The fees and living costs here are estimated based on 2024 fees and expenses and can vary depending on your lifestyle. Costs are listed in New Zealand dollars based on a semester of 21 weeks.

Scholarships

The University of Auckland is giving more students the opportunity to study in New Zealand and offers partner scholarships for fee-paying study abroad students. Check with your home study abroad office to see if you are eligible.

The University also works with a variety of external agencies and government bodies to make scholarship and funding opportunities available for students, for example:

- Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship

Insurance

All enrolled international students must have approved health and travel insurance (regardless of the visa type) for the duration of the visa or until you depart New Zealand, whichever comes first.

The detailed Studentsafe University policy can be found on the website. For details on Studentsafe University policy wording, please check auckland.ac.nz/is-insurance. The University of Auckland will automatically charge Studentsafe insurance fee to your account after enrolment. You must pay the fee unless the University of Auckland approves the use of an alternative insurance policy.

If you have an approved alternative insurance policy, you can apply for an insurance waiver by the second Friday of the semester. If your policy is included in the University's list of not approved insurance policies, you have to pay the University insurance. If you have an insurance policy that is not on either approved or not approved lists of policies, then you can send your insurance policy documents for an assessment at least four weeks prior to the semester start date.

auckland.ac.nz/is-insurance

Visa

Exchange and Study Abroad students must enter New Zealand with a valid visa to study for the entire period of study. Check details of visa on the Immigration New Zealand website (www.immigration.govt.nz). Visa requirements may vary depending on country of origin and personal situation. You must apply online for the right type of visa as soon as you receive an Offer of Place from the University of Auckland.

Programme	Type of visa
Study Abroad (Certificate of Proficiency Overseas)	Fee paying student visa
Exchange (Certificate of Proficiency Exchange)	Exchange student visa

Under current Immigration New Zealand regulations, only one-year Exchange students can have work rights.
